The chance of a pregnancy after six cycles of IVF is 72% provided the woman is in close contact with the IVF specialist and follows all of the instructions carefully.

Nonetheless, you need to not adjust the dosage on your own as this can lead to making use of more medicine that really needed for your condition to boost.